AmCham Singapore Appoints New Executive Director

Singapore, January 17, 2007: The Board of Governors of the American Chamber of Commerce in Singapore (AmCham Singapore) is pleased to announce the appointment of Dom LaVigne as the Chamber's new Executive Director.

Mr. LaVigne has more than 14 years of international management and government experience, primarily focused on Asia Pacific affairs. He comes to AmCham Singapore after having served in recent positions as Regional Director for the US-ASEAN Business Council, and as Executive Director at AMCHAM Malaysia. He had previously worked for AmCham Singapore as its Government Affairs Manager in 2003-2004.

Doug Miller, Chairman of AmCham Singapore and Vice President-Asia Pacific Operations, Business Development, for the Boeing International Corporation, welcomed Mr. LaVigne's said "We are delighted and indeed fortunate that Dom has decided to return to our organization in this vital position. We are confident in his management skills and ability to interpret and respond to the needs of our membership."

"He has first-hand knowledge of our structure and he brings, in addition, a breadth of experience with other organizations and experience with community and government agencies which will serve us well. The Board of Directors and staff of AmCham look forward to working with Dom to make the Singapore AmCham even more effective."

Mr. LaVigne mentioned, "I am honored to have the opportunity to serve AmCham Singapore and its members again. The organization is fortunate to have a very energetic and talented staff, committed Board, and active membership. I will continue building on the good things which have been done at AmCham in recent years, and seek to further develop the organization's relationships with our partners in the Singapore and U.S. governments, media, and business communities."

AmCham Singapore is the leading international business organization in Singapore with more than 2,400 members representing nearly 600 companies and over US$25billion in investments in Singapore.
